

Astral Witch's Love Spell (no target)

By Naomi Walker

What is Love?

Love. What's it all about? We search for it, watch movies about it and listen to songs about it. We feel devastated when it goes wrong.

Love can make us feel on top of the world. Or it can break us completely.

Love is more than a chemical reaction in the brain. It's a driving force that can dominate our thoughts and actions. Quite simply, love makes the world go around!

But what happens when love goes wrong? Loving someone who doesn't love you in return can feel terrible. Looking for someone to love, yet finding no one there, can be soul destroying. Betrayal of the heart is a shattering blow.

Love is a pure energy and energy can be amplified, directed and manipulated. Working with magick is all about using your intention to direct energy. Love can be directed, increased and invited using spellwork. Love spells involve using the incredible power of your intention to influence the energy of love.

Using a love spell without a target

Using a love spell that isn't targeted on a specific person is far less ethically risky than using one that is. In fact, some practitioners won't target a spell like this at all and will only work when no specific target is involved.

In a nutshell, a non-targeted love spell works to bring love close to you. It's a powerful spell to bring a new love interest (identity as yet unknown) into your life.

This type of love spell can be more effective than a targeted spell as it works without the energetic barriers that working with another person's energy and circumstances can bring.

So, if you're looking for love – this is the ideal spell to speed things along!

There are three types of love spell provided in this unit:

1. The love spell with a specific target
2. The love spell with no specific target – designed to bring a love interest, as yet unknown to you (this is the one that you're reading now)
3. The love spell to increase self-love

Think carefully when choosing which spells to use.

Astral Witch's magick love jar (no target)

This is a powerful variation of a traditional folk jar spell.

Start this spell on the day of a full moon, or on a Friday. Another good day to start this spell is Valentine's Day, due to the abundant love energy that manifests everywhere at this time. Continue the spell for three, six or nine days, whichever feels right to you.

The following is a set of instructions for the spell, you might find it useful to print this document out to follow.

What you will need

- A jar with a metal or heatproof lid. Using a glass jar is recommended.

- A small piece of paper (parchment is best but any paper will do). This paper has to fit into your jar when folded twice so make sure it's not too big!
- A red pen
- Two red candles (these represent you and the person who will be drawn to you)
- A pin to scratch the wax of the candles
- Matches or a lighter
- Red ribbon or thread (embroidery thread works well)
- A photograph of yourself, or your hand-written signature, or some of your hair, nail-clippings or a small piece of your clothing.
- Oils for anointing the candles and paper (jasmine, rose or lavender essential oils are good for love magick) 'Come to Me oil' is also a potent oil to use (available from magickal supply websites and shops)

Choose from these additional items for your jar so that the number of items totals 3, 6 or 9

- Cubeb berries (3, 6 or 9 – counts as one item)
- A small piece of orris root
- Spikenard herb
- Two cloves (counts as one item)
- Damiana
- Juniper berries (3, 6 or 9 – counts as one item)
- Two rose heads or the petals of two rose heads (counts as one item)
- Two vanilla pods (counts as one item)
- Two small pieces of rose quartz (counts as one item)
- Two pieces of lodestone, if lodestone isn't available, you can use synthetic magnets (counts as one item)

Method – part one – preparations

1. Spend the day focusing on your intention. Think about the future you plan for yourself and a potential partner. Imagine yourself as part of a happy couple, but don't try to visualise the physical features of the other person. Think about how it will feel to be truly happy with someone who brings joy to your life.
2. As evening draws in, have a cleansing bath. Use Himalayan pink salt, sea salt or a couple of drops of rose oil in your bath. Whilst you bathe, think about your energy reaching out into the Universe. In your mind's eye, think about any negative beliefs you hold about the possibility of finding a love interest. Pull out the plug and allow the water to drain whilst you remain in the bath, imagine these beliefs draining away and disappearing with the water.
3. After your bath, you are ready to begin your spell. If it resonates with you, you may wish to dress symbolically in robes; or you may choose to work naked – follow your intuition. Get everything you intend to use close to hand. You're going to work in a salt circle, so make sure you can fit everything you need around you.
4. Burn incense if you feel that this will help you to focus – rose incense is a good choice. You can also put quiet meditation-style music on, but don't use anything with spoken words or lyrics.

Method - part two – casting your circle

1. Pour a circle of sea or rock salt on the floor at least a metre in diameter. You can work in the privacy of your home or outside under the moon. As you cast the salt, say these words:

“This circle protects me, those who may be drawn to me, and my home. No negative energy is in this space, only love and healing fill this place. I call upon the ancient powers of the Goddess (you can use the word Universe if that resonates more with you) and ask for help and protection. All that I ask for is with good intentions. I work in love and in harmony with the Universe. So mote it be.”

2. Now, making sure you have everything you need to hand, enter the circle (if you are using an athame, use it to cut a symbolic doorway into the circle and enter through it).
3. Sit within your circle and clear your mind as much as possible. When you feel calm and focused, start to think about your intent to bring a love interest into your life. It's important to really feel the emotion of your intentions at this point. Focus on how it will feel to be part of a happy couple, to be fulfilled and to offer and receive love and care.

Method – part three – the petition and creating the jar

1. When you feel ready, get your paper and pen. It's time to create your petition. Write three, six or nine qualities that you'd like your love interest to have. Write them in present tense, as if they already exist. For example, '1 He/She/They is/are faithful and committed to me, 2 He/She/They is willing to accept my children, 3 He/She/They is economically independent, 4 He/She/They likes cats and dogs 5 He/She/They would like to get married' and so on.

2. Turn the paper 90 degrees and write your full name nine times on top of the desired qualities.

3. Now, draw a circle around the writing. Make sure your pen doesn't lift from the paper as you create the magick circle. As you draw the circle, say these words three, six or nine times:

“Universe I implore you: bring this person to my door. So mote it be.”

4. Once you've created the petition, rub some anointing oil into the paper using strokes towards your heart. Focus on your intent.

5. Fold the paper once towards your body.

6. Turn the paper 90 degrees and fold it towards your body again. Tie the paper into a roll with the red thread or ribbon.

7. Now, it's time to add the petition to the jar. Add the paper and your chosen items to your jar one by one. Each time you add an item, focus on your intention and say:

“Universe I implore you: bring this person to my door. So mote it be.”

Make sure the petition paper is covered by the other items. Close the lid of the jar tightly.

Method – part four – candles

1. Now, take your two candles. Use a pin to scratch your name on one and a heart with a question mark inside it into the other. Anoint your candles with oil. Do this by holding them pointing towards your heart whilst you stroke the oil, 3, 6 or 9 times, towards your body.

Always keep your intention clear and strong in your mind.

2. Light both candles and use the molten wax from each to stick them to the lid of the jar, close enough together so that they touch. Be careful at this point and remember never to leave burning candles unattended. Tie the candles together using the red thread or ribbon.

3. Place your jar down within the salt circle. Remain in the circle with the jar and direct your energy and intention towards the jar and contents.

Method – part five – leaving the circle

1. When you feel ready to leave the salt circle. Say these words:

“I thank the Goddess (you can use the word Universe if you used it in the first part of the spell) for Her power and protection. For all that I receive now, I am grateful. Now - BEGIN.”

As you say the final word, ‘BEGIN’, imagine a column of red or pink light reaching out into the Universe and searching for the person who will come to your side.

2. Extinguish your candles by nipping the wicks. Extinguish the one with the heart and question mark scratched into it first, then your own.

3. Leave the circle, taking the tied jar and candles.

3. Put your jar and candles somewhere safe and away from other people’s energies – the back of a kitchen cupboard if usually fine! Sweep up your salt circle and throw the salt outside.

Method – part six - repetition

1. Repeat this spell for three, six or nine days, whichever feels right. There is no need to write the petition again, scratch the candles or add more items to the jar. Keep the jar closed, but remember to have your ritual bath and cast your protective salt circle as described above before anointing, lighting and tying the candles. There is no need to remove the previous threads, tie new thread on top of them.

2. On the final night, let the candles burn right down (be careful not to let the red thread/ribbon ignite – never leave candles unattended). Leave the puddles of wax on top of the jar.

3. After the spell has been cast, keep the jar where you can see it. Whenever it catches your eye, send your love out into the Universe and imagine it working like a lighthouse to bring your love interest to you.

4. Be patient. The time it takes a spell to work can vary depending on the strength of your intention and any energy blocks it encounters.

5. When the spell has worked, either bury the jar in the earth or keep it in your home somewhere safe.

Astral Witch's Love Spell (self-love)

By Naomi Walker

What is love?

Love. What's it all about? We search for it, watch movies about it and listen to songs about it. We feel devastated when it goes wrong.

Love can make us feel on top of the world. Or it can break us completely.

Love is more than a chemical reaction in the brain. It's a driving force that can dominate our thoughts and actions. Quite simply, love makes the world go around!

Love doesn't have to be romantic, we can love family, friends, pets or the planet. We can also love ourselves... this is one of the greatest gifts you can ever give yourself.

Love is a pure energy and energy can be amplified, directed and manipulated. Working with magick is all about using your intention to direct energy. Self-love can be welcomed and amplified using spellwork and it's one of the most effective spells to use.

Using a love spell to increase self-love

Using a love spell that isn't targeted to affect another person is extremely powerful. This is because, by working the spell and setting your intentions, you are already clearing the energetic pathway for the spell to work.

Increasing self-love is something we should all work on. Learning to love ourselves means that we are happier and more productive. It also means that we have more empathy and power to help others. Remember, you cannot pour from an empty cup. Focusing on yourself before you try to help others is always wise.

There are three types of love spell provided in this unit:

1. The love spell with a specific target
2. The love spell with no specific target – designed to bring a love interest, as yet unknown to you
3. The love spell to increase self-love (this is the one that you're reading now)

Think carefully when choosing which spells to use.

Astral Witch's magick love jar (self-love)

This is a powerful variation of a traditional folk jar spell.

Start this spell on the day of a full moon, or on a Friday. Another good day to start this spell is Valentine's Day, due to the abundant love energy that manifests everywhere at this time. Continue the spell for three, six or nine days, whichever feels best to you.

The following is a set of instructions for the spell, you might find it useful to print this document out to follow.

What you will need

- A jar with a metal or heatproof lid. Using a glass jar is recommended.

- A small piece of paper (parchment is best but any paper will do). This paper has to fit into your jar when folded twice so make sure it's not too big
- A red pen
- A red or pink candle
- A pin to scratch the wax of the candle
- Matches or a lighter
- Red ribbon or thread (embroidery thread works well)
- A photograph of yourself, or your hand-written signature, or some of your hair, your nail-clippings or a small piece of your clothing
- Oils for anointing the candles and paper (jasmine, rose or lavender essential oils are good for love magick)

Choose from these additional items for your jar so that the number of items totals 3, 6 or 9

- A small piece of orris root
- Spikenard herb
- A clove
- Damiana
- Juniper berries (3, 6 or 9 – counts as one item)
- A rose head or rose petals
- A vanilla pod
- A piece of rose quartz

Method – part one – preparations

1. Spend the day focusing on your intention to increase your self-love. Think about the positive qualities that you have and the achievements you've enjoyed over the years. Talk to yourself as you would talk to a dear friend, reassure yourself about your positive traits.

Forgive yourself for any negative behaviours, thoughts or other actions in the past. What's important is the future – dwelling on the past sometimes holds us back.

2. As evening draws in, have a cleansing bath. Use Himalayan pink salt, sea salt or a couple of drops of rose oil in your bath. Whilst you bathe, think about your energy reaching out into the Universe and also surrounding you like a hug. Remove the plug and allow the water to drain whilst you remain in the bath, imagine your past negative behaviours, thoughts and self-doubts draining away and disappearing with the water.

3. After your bath, you are ready to begin your spell. If it resonates with you, you may wish to dress symbolically in robes; or you may choose to work naked – follow your intuition. Get everything you intend to use close to hand. You're going to work in a salt circle, so make sure you have room for everything you need within the circle.

4. Burn incense if you feel that this will help you to focus – rose incense is a good choice. You can also put quiet meditation-style music on, but don't use anything with spoken words or lyrics.

I work in love and in harmony with the Universe. So mote it be.”

2. Now, making sure you have everything you need to hand, enter the circle (if you use an athame, you can symbolically cut a doorway into the circle to enter through).

3. Sit within your circle and clear your mind as much as possible. When you feel calm and focused, start to think about your desire to increase the love you feel for yourself. It's important to really feel the emotion of your intentions at this point. Focus on how it will feel to be happier with who you are, comfortable in your own skin and accepting of any mistakes or faults that happened in the past or may happen in the future.

Method – part three – the petition and creating the jar

1. When you feel ready, get your paper and pen. It's time to create your petition. Write your full name on the paper.
2. Turn the paper 90 degrees and write 'I love you' nine times over your full name.
3. Now, draw a circle around the writing. Make sure your pen doesn't lift from the paper as you create the magick circle. As you draw the circle, say these words three, six or nine times:

“I am worthy, I am loved, I am enough, I am light. So mote it be.”

4. Once you've created the petition, rub some anointing oil into the paper using strokes towards your heart. Focus on your intent.
5. Fold the paper once towards your body.
6. Turn the paper 90 degrees and fold it towards your body again. Tie the paper into a roll with the red thread or ribbon.
7. Now, it's time to add the petition to the jar. Add the paper and your chosen items to your jar one by one. Each time you add an item, focus on your intention and say:

“I am worthy, I am loved, I am enough, I am light. So mote it be.”

Make sure the petition paper is covered by the other items. Close the lid of the jar tightly.

Method – part four – candle

1. Now, take your candle. Use a pin to scratch your name on it. Anoint your candle with oil. Do this by holding it pointing towards your heart whilst you stroke the oil, 3, 6 or 9 times, towards your body. Always keep your intention clear and strong in your mind.
2. Light the candle and use the molten wax to stick it to the lid of the jar. Be careful at this point and remember never to leave burning candles alone.
3. Place your jar within the salt circle. Remain in the circle with the jar and direct your energy and intention towards the jar and contents.

Method – part five – leaving the circle

1. When you feel ready to leave the salt circle. Say these words:

“I thank the Goddess (you can use the word Universe if you used it in the first part of the spell) for Her power and protection. For all that I receive now, I am grateful. Now - BEGIN.”

As you say the final word, 'BEGIN', imagine a column of red or pink light reaching out into the Universe and surrounding your entire body.

2. Extinguish your candle by nipping out the wick.
3. Leave the circle, taking the jar and candle.
4. Put your jar and candle somewhere safe and away from other people's energies – the back of a kitchen cupboard if usually fine! Sweep up your salt circle and throw the salt outside.

Method – part six - repetition

1. Repeat this spell for three, six or nine days, whichever feels right. There is no need to write the petition again, scratch the candle or add more items to the jar. Keep the jar closed, but remember to have your ritual bath and cast your protective salt circle as described above before anointing and lighting the candle.
2. On the final night, let the candle burn right down. Leave the puddle of wax on top of the jar.
3. After the spell has been cast, keep the jar where you can see it. Whenever it catches your eye, send your love out into the Universe and imagine it surrounding your entire body.
4. Be patient. The time it takes a spell to work can vary depending on the strength of your intention and your physical/energetic body condition.
5. When it feels right, either bury the jar in the earth or keep it in your home somewhere safe. For this type of spell, if the jar is in your home, you can use it as a focus from time to time when you wish to renew or boost your self-love or if your mood is low.

Astral Witch's Love Spell (with target)

By Naomi Walker

What is love?

Love. What's it all about? We search for it, watch movies about it and listen to songs about it. We feel devastated when it goes wrong.

Love can make us feel on top of the world. Or it can break us completely.

Love is more than a chemical reaction in the brain. It's a driving force that can dominate our thoughts and actions. Quite simply, love makes the world go around!

But what happens when love goes wrong? Loving someone who doesn't love you in return can feel terrible. Looking for someone to love, yet finding no one there, can be soul destroying. Betrayal of the heart is a shattering blow.

Love is a pure energy and energy can be amplified, directed and manipulated. Working with magick is all about using your intention to direct energy. Love can be directed, increased and invited using spellwork. Love spells involve using the incredible power of your intention to influence the energy of love.

Are love spells dangerous?

All spellwork is potentially risky. The Universe has a strange way of giving you exactly what you ask for. The saying, 'be careful what you wish for' should always be considered before working on any spell, whatever that may be. This is particularly true when creating magick to bring someone into your life. But, done with proper care and pure intention, love spells can literally change your life in the most wonderful way.

I have personally used love spells to great effect... my handfasting (Pagan wedding) was influenced by a love spell.

I'm a firm believer that love spells can clear emotional blockages, attract love energy into your life, open doors and repair old wounds of the heart. They are extremely powerful.

However, a word of advice it's ethically questionable to 'force' someone to have feelings for you. Manipulating another person's will beyond their control can cause you both chaos. But sometimes, a gentle nudge is all they need!

There are three types of love spell provided in this unit:

1. The love spell with a specific target (this is the one that you're reading now)
2. The love spell with no specific target – designed to bring a love interest, as yet unknown to you
3. The love spell to increase self-love

Think carefully when choosing which spells to use.

If your intention is strong and good - love magick can work for you.

Now, let's have a look at a powerful love spell I have used myself:

Astral Witch's magick love jar (with target)

This is a powerful variation of a traditional folk jar spell. It's intended to ignite or renew a target person's feelings of love for you.

A word of caution, be sure that you have the target's best interests at heart and not just your own - using magick to create powerful emotions is a tremendously effective and potentially risky plan. What's important is that you use this spell to create harmony and increase love. Don't use it if you just want to bring someone to you temporarily, or to create simply lust.

Start this spell on the day of a full moon, or on a Friday. Another good day to start this spell is Valentine's Day, due to the abundant love energy that manifests everywhere at this time. Continue the spell for three, six or nine days.

The following is a set of instructions for the spell, you might find it useful to print this document out to follow.

What you will need

- A jar with a metal or heatproof lid. Using a glass jar is recommended.
- A small piece of paper (parchment is best but any paper will do). This paper has to fit into your jar when folded twice so make sure it's not too big
- A red pen
- Two red candles (these represent you and the target person)
- A pin to scratch the wax of the candles
- Matches or a lighter
- Red ribbon or thread (embroidery thread works well)
- A representation of your target - this can be a photo, hair, nail clippings, something they've had close to them or something they've hand-written
- A representation (as above) of the petitioner (this can be yourself or you can work the spell on behalf of another person)
- Sugar or organic honey
- Sea or rock salt
- Oils for anointing the candles and paper (jasmine, rose or lavender essential oils are good for love magick) 'Come to Me oil' is also a potent oil to use (available from magickal supply websites and shops)

Choose from these additional items for your jar so that the number of items totals 3, 6 or 9

- Cubeb berries (3, 6 or 9 – counts as one item)
- A small piece of orris root

- Spikenard herb
- Two cloves (counts as one item)
- Damiana
- Juniper berries (3, 6 or 9 – counts as one item)
- Two rose heads or the petals of two rose heads (counts as one item)
- Two vanilla pods (counts as one item)
- Two small pieces of rose quartz (counts as one item)
- Two pieces of lodestone, if lodestone isn't available, you can use synthetic magnets (counts as one item)

Method – part one – preparations

1. Spend the day focusing on your intention. Think about the future you have planned for yourself and your target. Imagine yourself as part of a happy couple. Think about how it will feel to be truly happy with the person you desire.

2. As evening draws in, have a cleansing bath. Use Himalayan pink salt, sea salt or a couple of drops of rose oil in your bath. Whilst you bathe, think about your energy reaching out to the target. In your mind's eye, see any blockages between you. Pull out the plug and allow the water to drain whilst you remain in the bath, see the blockages draining away and disappearing with the water.

3. After your bath, you are ready to begin your spell. If it resonates with you, you may wish to dress symbolically in robes; or you may choose to work naked – follow your intuition. 4. Burn incense if you feel this will help you to focus – rose incense is a good choice. You can also put quiet meditation-style music on, but don't use anything with spoken words or lyrics.

Method - part two – casting your circle

1. Pour a circle of sea or rock salt on the floor at least a metre in diameter. You can work in the privacy of your home or outside under the moon. As you cast the salt, say these words:

“This circle protects me and (insert your target's name). No negative energy is in this space, only love and healing fill this place. I call upon the ancient powers of the Goddess (you can use the word Universe if that resonates more with you) and ask for help and protection. All that I ask for is for the good of myself and (insert your target's name). No harm is done to us. I work in love and in harmony with the Universe. So mote it be.”

2. Now, making sure you have everything you need to hand, enter the circle (if you use an athame, use it to symbolically cut a doorway into the circle).

3. Sit within your circle and clear your mind as much as possible. When you feel calm and focused, start to think about your intent. It's important to really feel the emotion of your intentions at this point. If you wish to focus on a photograph of your target, do so. You could also use something they have worn or written.

Method – part three – the petition and creating the jar

1. When you feel ready, get your paper and pen. It's time to create your petition. Write your target's full name on the paper nine times.

2. Turn the paper 90 degrees and write your own full name nine times across and on top of your target's name.

3. Now, draw a circle around the names. Make sure that your pen doesn't lift from the paper as you create the magick circle. As you draw the circle, say these words three, six or nine times:

“The only face that you can see is my face so mote it be.”

4. Once you've created the petition, rub some anointing oil into the paper using strokes towards your heart. Focus on your intent.

5. Fold the paper once towards your body.

6. Turn the paper 90 degrees and fold it towards your body again. Tie the paper into a roll with the red thread or ribbon.

7. Now, it's time to add the petition to the jar. Add the paper and your chosen items to your jar one by one. Each time you add an item, focus on your intention and say:

“The only face that you can see is my face so mote it be.”

Make sure the petition paper is covered by the other items. Close the lid of the jar tightly.

Method – part four – candles

1. Now, take your two candles. Use your pin to scratch your name on one and your target's name on the other. If you are using oils, anoint your candles. Do this by holding them pointing towards your heart whilst you stroke the oil, 3, 6 or 9 times, towards your body. Always keep your intention clear and strong in your mind.
2. Light both candles and use the molten wax from each to stick them to the lid of the jar so that they are touching each other. Be careful at this point and remember never to leave burning candles unattended. Tie the candles together using the red thread or ribbon.
3. Place your jar within the salt circle. Remain in the circle with the jar and direct your energy and intention towards the jar and contents.

Method – part five – leaving the circle

1. When you feel ready to leave the salt circle. Say these words:

“I thank the Goddess (you can use the word Universe if you used it in the first part of the spell) for Her power and protection. For all that I receive now, I am grateful. Now - BEGIN.”

As you say the final word, ‘BEGIN’, imagine a column of red or pink light reaching out to your target and carrying your love to them.

2. Extinguish your candles by nipping the wicks. Extinguish your target's first, then your own.
3. Leave the circle, taking the jar and tied candles (if you've used an athame to cut a symbolic doorway, use it again in the same way to leave the circle).
3. Put your jar and tied candles somewhere safe and away from other people's energies – the back of a kitchen cupboard if usually fine! Sweep up your salt circle and throw the salt outside.

Method – part six - repetition

1. Repeat this spell for three, six or nine days, whichever feels right. There is no need to write the petition again, scratch names on the candles or add items to the jar. Keep the jar closed, but remember to have your ritual bath and cast your protective salt circle as described above before anointing, lighting and tying the candles again with more thread (don't remove the first ties).

2. On the final night, let the candles burn right down (be careful not to let the red thread/ribbon ignite – never leave candles unattended).

3. After the spell has been cast, leave the jar near to the target if this is possible – but please remember not to encroach on another person's personal space without permission. Stalking is never acceptable! If placing the jar near to the target isn't possible, keep it close to a photograph of them, an item they have worn or something they have hand-written. If you don't have anything like this, keep it somewhere you can see it and when it catches your eye, direct your intentions of love for the target towards the jar.

4. Be patient. The time it takes a spell to work can vary depending on the strength of your intention and any energy blocks it encounters.

26. When the spell has worked, either bury the jar in the earth or keep it in your home somewhere safe and away from other people's energies.
